'Impossible' is Verdict of Berlin to Allies' Wish.

BULLETIN.
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Paris, Feb. 5.—What amounted to virtually a new note was sent to Berlin by the allies to be presented to the German government with the list of persons accused of war crimes, besides the original covering letter drawn up to accompany the list.

The suggestion has been made in official circles here that if the Germans resist surrender of the accused the latter may be tried by default. It is pointed out that while most of them would never undergo the penalties imposed by the court, it would be impossible for them to leave Germany except for neutral countries.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
London, Feb. 5.—The German cabinet has decided to send another note to the allies calling attention to the fatal consequences which would ensue upon extradition of the Germans demanded for trial by the allies for war crimes, according to a Berlin despatch to the Exchange Telegraph.

UTTER IMPOSSIBILITY.
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Berlin, Wednesday, Feb. 4.—At the conclusion of tonight's cabinet session a member of the government informed the correspondent of The Associated Press that the ministers were unanimous in declaring that surrender of the men demanded by the allies in an unofficial or any other extradition list was an utter physical impossibility.

AT CRISIS.
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Paris, Feb. 5.—Relations between the Allied Powers and Germany seem to have arrived at a crisis as a result of the refusal of Baron Von Lersner, head of the German delegation here, to forward Berlin the names of Germans whose extradition is demanded by the allies. This incident apparently finds an echo in the attitude of the Berlin cabinet, which is reported in London despatches to have expressed, through Gustav Noske, minister of defense, seeming defiance to the powers. Baron Von Lersner left for the German capital last night.

The list of Germans whose arraignment is contemplated by the allies will be sent to Berlin direct by the council of ambassadors. It is pointed out here that measures intended to compel Germany to carry out the extradition clauses of the Versailles treaty will be adopted but there is no intimation as to their nature.

Extra! Fighting in Russia, Report

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Harbin, Manchuria, Saturday, Jan. 31.—Heavy fighting is reported west of Irkutsk between Czechoslovak forces and revolutionary troops. Three battalions of Czechs are said to be retreating on foot from Nijni-Udinsk because the Bolsheviks wrecked the railroad.

London, Feb. 5.—The attitude of both the Bolsheviks and the Afghans toward the Persians is becoming increasingly hostile, according to British war office advices. Unverified reports from the trans-Caspian area say that the transport of Bolshevik troops thence is continuing at the rate of about 2,000 a week. These troops are said to be well equipped and led by officers of the old Russian Army. Their morale and training are believed to be good.

A number of high military and civil officials including some Germans are reported as having arrived at Tashkent in a special train from Moscow.

Says 67 Cents is Not Enough for Eggs

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Feb. 5.—Sixty-seven cents a dozen for fresh eggs—this week's fair price in Illinois—is not enough, according to Mrs. Mary E. Dalberg, home advisor of McHenry county. Rather than sell at the price set McHenry county farmers will boycott the Chicago market, Mrs. Dalberg declared in a letter to Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen, head of the Women's division of the Fair Price Committee today.

Fair weather of the past few days has increased the egg yield and there is no reason for higher prices Mrs. Bowen said in reply.

OUTLINE PLANS FOR CHANGE IN DIXON SCHOOLS

Extensive plans for improvements in some of the city schools are outlined for the coming year, which when completed will add greatly to the educational interests of Dixon. Superintendent John C. Reeder has just returned from Chicago where he spent Monday and Tuesday looking over plans for the proposed changes in the E. C. Smith school, which building will be considerably changed.

The plan, while still incomplete in many details, calls for the remodeling of the E. C. Smith building, which will probably do away entirely with the present third floor. When the improvements have been completed, the building will accommodate six organized grades, the seventh, eighth and ninth grades being turned over into an intermediate or junior high school.

Intermediate or junior high schools will be organized on both sides of the river according to the plan, the greatest change being on the Smith school on the south side. The present high school building on the north side will accommodate the classes with a very small expenditure for changes. By this adjustment, the junior high school terms will be accommodated on both the north and south sides with the senior term in the Central school on the south side. Some few changes may be necessary in the Central building to accommodate the classes under the new system.

Agreement is Near on Railroad Laws

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, D. C., Feb. 5.—Chairmen Cummins and Esch, of the senate and house conference committee respectively began today ironing out minor differences on the railroad bill on which virtually a complete agreement was reached late yesterday by the conferees.

Elimination of the anti-strike provision and modification of the rate-making section contained in the bill as it passed the senate, the chief issues between the two branches of congress broke the existing deadlock and conference leaders expressed belief a report could be made ready by the end of the week.

It is planned to expedite the measure in both houses so that the measure can be enacted into law by March 1, the date on which the government will relinquish control of the railroads.

VETERAN SOLDIER AND CITY OFFICER CALLED LAST NIGHT

George Gitt Passed Away at His Home Last Night.

George J. Gitt, veteran city employee and soldier, passed away at his home 217 East Seventh street last evening, following an illness of one week with pneumonia. His death came as a shock to the wide circle of friends who knew him through his active life of service to the city of Dixon as superintendent of streets, in which capacity he served for a period of a quarter of a century. He was taken ill about a week ago with pneumonia and succumbed to the disease at 5:50 last evening at the family residence.

He was born in Hanover, Adams county, Pennsylvania, Oct. 5, 1844, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gitt. In his boyhood, he enlisted with his father in the cause of the north, both serving through the war in Company H of the 16th Pennsylvania infantry in the battle of the Wilderness, the Battle of Bull Run and arriving at Gettysburg a few hours after the surrender. The deceased received wounds in the Battle of the Wilderness, but accompanied his contingent on its campaign, fighting at his father's side through the war. Mr. Gitt in his months of service was wounded but once, this being in the Battle of the Wilderness. His father died shortly after being mustered out of service.

About 55 years ago he came west from Pennsylvania and settled in the vicinity of Nachusa where for a period of 17 years he had charge of one of the largest of the J. Wilbur Crawford farms east of the city of Dixon. On May 10 1897 he was united in marriage to Miss Samantha B. Dawson of Columbus, Ohio. The young couple came west and made their home on the Crawford farm until the spring of 1893 when they removed to Dixon.

In the spring of 1894 he entered the employ of the city of Dixon as superintendent of streets and continued in that capacity up to time of his resignation last fall, when he retired from active life. He was a member of Dixon lodge, No. 7, A. F. & A. M., and of the Dixon post of the G. A. R. His wife preceded him in death Feb. 20, 1915. Three children survive as follows: Mrs. Edward Dillon of Woonsocket, Wilbur J. Gitt of Beloit, Wis., and Miss Maude M. Gitt at home. Four grandchildren also survive, and one sister, Mrs. Manning of Millersville, Pa.

CHICAGO COPS HOPE TO GET MOSS' SLAYER

Fear Enright's Cohorts Will Slay Him First.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Feb. 5.—War among Chicago's gunmen and labor union feudists to avenge the murder of "Moss" Enright, chief of feudists and leader of gunmen, today hinged upon police efforts to apprehend and hold suspects before the dead man's friends found them and cancelled the score in their own fashion.

Call for Enright's Out.
The call for the Enright clan had gone out, the police said, and "war and wholesale murder" was imminent. There probably will be more killings before the chief of police declared. Enright's fate was decided many weeks ago and gunmen shadowed him until Tuesday night. Then they discharged the contents of a double-barrelled sawed-off shotgun into his body as he sat in his automobile in front of his home.

"We knew Enright was the next of the old time gunmen destined to die," said Macley Hoyme, state's attorney. "But we were powerless to prevent it. The tips were too elusive to follow up. But we knew it and Moss must have known it."

Know They're Marked.
Many men, both enemies and the friends of the dead gang leader have been arrested and questioned, and some were held for further investigation. Most of them were released and at least two men went away unwillingly, the police said, for it was known that they were "marked men." "Big Tim" Murphy of the "street" and his "pal," Michael Carozzo, president of the Street Sweepers' Union were among those arrested. Carozzo was held, but Murphy was released. He denied he ever used a gun in a fight.

Charges Oil Men with Propaganda for Intervention

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Mexico City, Feb. 5.—Ninety per cent of the "interventionist propaganda," carried on in the United States is the "work of the American Association of Petroleum Producers," declared Joseph F. Guffey, president of the Agwi Oil Company, in a statement issued here yesterday. He said that the association had boycotted his company and had tried vainly to get the state department to refuse to permit him to charter United States Shipping Board tankers.

He asserted he had conferred with President Carranza and Luis Cabrera, secretary of the treasury and would leave in a few days for New York, "to start a campaign favoring compliance on the part of American oilmen to Mexican oil laws. Companies which he controlled he said, had always obeyed Mexican laws, paid taxes and never protested to the American state department. As a result, he asserted, they had never been interfered with by the Mexican government.

Canada May Take Over Grand Trunk

"When the Canadian government becomes the owner of the system," the circular says, "it can speedily bring about such a readjustment of rates as will permit a fair return on the capital invested."

Give Egg Merchants in N. Y. 'Merry Ha-Ha'

By Associated Press Leased Wire
New York, Feb. 5.—Victims of the high cost of living were given cause for revengeful chuckling today when market reports showed that eggs recently put in cold storage at 50 cents a dozen were being thrown on the market at prices ranging downward from 45 to 11 cents wholesale.

The slump was reported to have affected the fresh egg market, bringing prices down 8 cents since last Friday.

The decrease in cold storage egg prices was explained as being due to the fact that the expected European demand for eggs did not fully develop.

The present wholesale prices of the best storage eggs range from 45 to 48 cents a dozen. So called "undergrade" eggs are quoted from 10 to 38 cents a dozen.

TIGHT QUARANTINE NECESSARY HERE TO DEFEAT FLU EPIDEMIC

Officials Promulgate Order to Stop Further Spread.

Health officials today promulgated more stringent regulations in order to successfully combat the wave of the influenza and the pneumonia in Dixon. Dr. J. B. Werren called attention to the fact that every case of pneumonia, influenza or grippé should be reported to him this not being a local requirement but one of the state laws. Another important ruling that seems to have been misunderstood in many cases and which is highly necessary is to be rigidly enforced here. This provides that in families effected by influenza or the grippé, the children shall not be allowed to go to school, but must remain at home.

Dr. Werren called attention to the fact that the state law and the federal ruling make it essential that all pneumonia cases be reported and that there have been three deaths from this disease in Dixon, but not one case has been reported. The health physician stated that the required co-operation was lacking and that this should be observed at this time when families in every part of the city are effected.

Warmth Brings Danger

The sudden change from freezing cold to warm, mild and thawing weather, it was feared would cause a rapid spread of the epidemic, provoking more colds, la grippe and influenza, and added efforts are being made to confine any such infection.

Acting on instructions from the Illinois state board of health which were contained in an urgent message from Dr. C. St. Clair Drake, the head of the department, City Physician J. B. Werren today announced that Dr. Drake had authorized him to do the following:

"Classify all cases of la grippe as influenza."

Issue orders requiring physicians to make an immediate report of all new cases of either the la grippe, the influenza or the pneumonia.

Doctor May Prosecute

"Prosecute all willful offenders who may be physicians or householders, who fail to report new cases of the disease, patients who break quarantine or any one who violates the state board of health or the city health regulations."

Dr. Werren warned this morning that full obedience of these state regulations would be demanded and he declared that offenders would be promptly punished.

The state board of health has required a daily report from this and every city in the state where the epidemic has been found, and the smaller towns throughout the county will also be required to make reports.

To Tighten Quarantine

The city health physician is battling with quarantine, isolation and precautionary measures to prevent a further spread of the infection. The quarantine regulations are being tightened to combat the spread of the three diseases.

Dr. Werren declared that physicians had been lax in reporting new or suspected cases which has greatly hampered the state officials. This does not apply in every instance, however, as some of the physicians have been lending their assistance in trying to prevent the infection from spreading. He said the physicians were more prompt in reporting cases now since the state department has placed strict rulings on the violations.

FLU IS ON WANE

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Springfield, Ill., Feb. 5.—Health officials in Illinois were encouraged today by the gradual decline in the number of new influenza cases reported.

Dr. C. St. Clair Drake, director of the department of Public Health, expressed the belief that the epidemic is waning. Figures for the first three days of the present week showed 5339 new cases in the state Monday, 4369 Tuesday and 4054 Wednesday. Further decreases was expected today.

HEALTH CONDITIONS IN SCHOOLS BETTER

The epidemic of influenza, la grippe and other ailments in the public schools of the city has decreased to some extent within the last few days. Superintendent John C. Reeder stated this morning that schools were receiving on an average of 85 per cent of the regular attendance, although some of the grades were as low as 30 per cent.

Many of the teachers who were absent have returned and others have been taken ill. This morning there were eight of the staff of teachers absent from their rooms but it has not been necessary to dismiss the pupils.

CLYNE INSISTS BERGER MUST GO TO LEAVENWORTH

Suit Started Today to Put Socialist in Federal Jail.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Feb. 5.—District Attorney Charles F. Clyne brought suit in the circuit court of appeals today to have Victor Berger, convicted socialist congressman, sent to Leavenworth penitentiary to serve out his ten year sentence.

In his brief Mr. Clyne declares Berger tried to perpetrate a fraud on the court and that he should be sent to prison immediately. The fraud charge is based on new evidence that while out on bail, under promise to refrain from all such activity took part in a campaign to induce socialists to oppose conscription and the war.

Berger's appeal from the sentence passed by Judge K. M. Landis is now pending in the circuit court of appeals.

No Protest On Grey Note from Uncle Sam

Washington, D. C., Feb. 5.—Various intimations and reports that President Wilson might have known in advance of the contents of Viscount Grey's recent letter on the status of the peace treaty were met by administration officials today with the statement that while they did not care to assume the position of denying them, there was no foundation in fact for such conclusion. There were indications that the government here rather was inclined to feel that the president should have been advised of Viscount Grey's expressions before they were published.

White House officials said that the president all during his illness has been receiving communications in writing and that diplomats were not prevented from intercourse with him, although it might not be a personal one.

Viscount Grey, writing as a private citizen, expressed approval of the Lodge Reservations and reminded the British public that membership in the League of Nations was a wide departure from the prior policy of the American government.

Secretary Lansing said published reports that the American government had sent a letter of protest to the British government regarding the Grey letter were without the slightest foundation. He added that he had not even discussed the matter with White House officials.

SEND PLANT BY MAIL IN TIN CAN

A new use for empty coffee cans or large sized baking powder cans is to make of them mailing containers for growing plants. # WAY TO PREVENT BUSHY EYEBROWS

Busby eyebrows may be prevented by the teaching of a simple habit in childhood. # LIBERTY BONDS ARE SAFE DESPITE LOW RATE FOR EXCHANGE

Foreign Exchange Cannot Depreciate U. S. Securities.

BULLETIN.
By Associated Press Leased Wire
New York, Feb. 5.—Rates on demand bills for the English pound sterling which tumbled yesterday to the record low of $3.19, opened today at $3.22 and rose to $3.25 at the end of the first hour.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, Feb. 5.—National Banks will be permitted to carry Liberty Bonds in their lists of assets at the price at which they purchased and not at the prevailing market quotations, under a ruling today by John Skelton Williams, comptroller of the currency. Mr. Williams explained, however, that the ruling was for the "present" and might not be permanent.

Mr. Williams's ruling was contained in instructions to national bank examiners. It was explained that if a bank had purchased a $100 bond at $91 and subsequently the market quotation for that issue was $95 the bank would not have to absorb the loss in listing its assets.

"There is no cause for anxiety because of the recent decline in the market value of Liberty Bonds," Mr. Williams said. "The fall in price is no reflection upon their intrinsic value and desirability, but the lower quotations offer investors an extraordinary opportunity to obtain the best security in the world at very attractive figures."

The comptroller added that the income of the American people was in excess of ordinary living expenses and that as a result a surplus investible income had been accumulated. He said that that with an estimated annual income of $10,000,000,000 the American people soon would absorb all available national securities with the result that higher prices for them would prevail.

FRANCE TO FLOAT LOAN HERE.

URGES IMPORTS REDUCTION.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
London, Feb. 5.—Drastic reduction of imports of manufactured luxuries from America is advocated by Arthur M. Samuel, member of parliament for Surrey, in an interview published in the Manchester Guardian. He deprecates the squandering of money at holiday resorts on the continent and the importation of wines.

The worst effect of the exchange situation is felt on the continent, he says, because payments from countries there must be made through London.

"This prevents them from buying raw materials and foods from America without which Europe cannot be put on its feet again," he says. "The worst phase of the situation is near and the whole of Europe is being pressed toward starvation and ruin."

Corn Steady at Close; Bad Day

By Associated Press Leased Wire.
Chicago, Feb. 5.—Grain values dropped sharply today in a general rush to sell. Orders for a ten day freight embargo in the middle west gave promise of a decided increase of supplies of corn here and this fact together with disturbed financial conditions led not only to intensified selling pressure in the corn trade but also tended to deprive the market of support. Profit taking by shorts, however, checked the decline before losses became radical. Opening corn quotations, which ranged from 1 3/4 to 2 1/2% lower, with May 1 3/4 to 1 3/8% and July 1 1/2 to 1 1/8%, were followed by many nervous fluctuations but with only slight further downturns than were shown at the outset.

Oats displayed weakness for the same reasons as corn. After opening 1/2 to 1 1/4% lower, including May at 78 1/2 to 79 1/2%, the market rallied a little but then sagged again.

Unusual downturns in the value of hogs forced decided breaks in provision prices. In some cases pork fell $1.30 a barrel.

In the later dealings there was considerable of a leap in the pressure of offerings. The market closed steady, at 1/2 to 2c net decline, with May 1 1/2% to 1 3/8% and July 1 1/2% to 1 1/8%.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

Very often the term used to denote the method of cooking a certain food is paid little attention. The nice distinctions of meaning are overlooked, the process is changed, and perhaps the food is spoiled as the result.

When boiling water is called for in a recipe it means that the water must be bubbling, not just singing and vaporizing. Of bubbles there are simmering bubbles and boiling bubbles, and between these two there is a difference of nearly 35 degrees. The simmering bubbles are tiny and come up to the top of the water but do not break. The boiling bubbles are large and burst and give off a great amount of steam.

By the great difference in temperature it is easily seen that actual boiling might make or mar a food in case simmering was the proper method of cooking.

CRYING WITH RAGE.

Somebody asks, Why does a young boy cry
with rage when he is given an order?

This question requires three answers:

FIRST—He gets angry because he is interrupted in what he is doing, and his dignity and independence are not respected. Such things count with children as they do with everybody else.

SECOND—His anger takes the form of rage for the same reason that all his other emotions are excessive. He has not had the experience necessary to show him the difference between what is important and what is unimportant; and if he had he could not use it, for he cannot keep more than a very few interests in mind at once and cannot have the larger purposes that make his play seem trivial to a man. The thing he is doing in his play may be as absorbing to him for the moment as a man's life work; his whole heart is in it, and his whole heart rebels against an interruption.

THIRD—He cries in his rage because this is the instinctive appeal for sympathy and help which all dependent young creatures make when they are in distress. He needs a protector and a helper against the enemy.
And if his natural protector is the enemy,
the poor youngster gets into the painful emotional habit of mixing loving appeals with hatred and resistance to the same person at the same time; a habit which may last for a lifetime and make him always vaguely dis-trusting of his friends and too submissive to his enemies.

MORAL: If you do not want your boy to be a quarrelsome quitter, do not break up his plans, but encourage him to put things across.
Do not expect him to be reasonable. And if you want his help ask for it, but do not give him orders. Willing co-operation is far better for him than reluctant obedience; and you would rather have it, for you want your boy to be your chum, not your slave.

HOW TO GET INFLUENZA.

"Thou Shalt Not" is a challenge to many persons. People resent being told what they must not do. They like "You May" better.
It comes nearer harmonizing with the Declaration of Independence. In recognition of this human characteristic it seems fit to tell Dixon people how they may get influenza.
The methods are varied and simple.

Miss no opportunity to get within range of every 40-horse power sneeze that explodes.

As you cough unto others permit others to cough unto you. Welcome and encourage community snorting.

Get your feet wet when possible.

Avoid fresh air as you would sidestep a pestilence.

Keep your mouth open and your pores
closed.

Disregard all the dictates of common sense.

Welcome every slight pain—of no consequence under normal condition—as a symptom. Flu germs thrive on hospitality.

Become panicky at the drop of the hat and banish all sane thoughts from the mind.

There are other ways to get influenza, but these will serve in most cases where the ailment is a desideratum.

GOMPERS TELLS THEM

Samuel Gompers, veteran labor leader in America, has expressed his public condemnation for all time of Bolshevism. It was hardly necessary for Mr. Gompers to make this statement, so far as America goes, but his words may do some good abroad. It should at least warn European Reds that it will be dangerous for them to try to carry their propaganda among American workingmen.

If we had a few hundred new homes in Dixon we could add a few thousand to our population. We believe the housing proposition is one that demands action on the part of some civic organization.

Emma Goldman says she will get along with the Bolsheviks by not impressing her anarchistic views on them. She might have got along with America that way.

All is not harmony on the good ship Democracy. Bill Bryan has struck up that old tune, "Pull for the Shore, Boys," and Woodrow plays "Stick To the Ship."

We get a gob of poetry now and then from a well-meaning subscriber, and usually we get the impression that the words are made to rhyme by brute force.

As long as there are school teachers in America being paid as low as $25 a month
we can't conscientiously do much for foreign missions.

Japan says she doesn't understand why
the United States are withdrawing from Siberia. Did she ever hear why that man dropped the hot brick?

We are told that there were 468 earthquakes last year. Observers on Mars doubtless thought the old earth was doing a shimmy.

Now they tell us that Noah, the old skee-zicks, ate the apple that poor Adam has been blamed with all this time. Well, who got the core?

It really isn't necessary to raise the vice-president's salary. He must entertain, but he can always take visitin dignitaries out to a hot-dog stand.

Italy has the backing of France, Britain
and Japan. And the Jugo-Slavs have American sympathy to the utmost.

These stories about the loot captured by the Russian Reds makes the mouths of the ismists in this country water copiously.

After it has completed its convention work in San Francisco, the Democratic party may as well take a boat and go down to Borneo.

That rocket they plan to aim at the moon
would be more useful if aimed at the high prices, though it might not reach them either.

If Wilson is nominated for a third term the Topeka Journal says the slogan should be
"He kept us out of sugar."

There now! Kramer has spoiled the back-to-the-farm movement by declaring cider was covered by the prohibition law.

What the nation wants in the presidential chair is a business man. Another term of Democracy and we'll need a receiver.

Confessions of a Bride

(Copyright 1920, by The Newspaper Enterprise Association)

"Berghoff is a Teuton by birth and a traitor by trade," I said to Bob, next day, as I helped him collect the things for his bag. I was helping him because Berghoff couldn't be found. He hadn't been seen at the hotel for twenty-four hours. Bob was worried. The man had never failed in his duty before. I hoped the creature had run away and that he would never turn up again. I didn't trust him and I couldn't bear to have him go into the wilderness with Bob.

Our work with the luggage was interrupted by a call on the phone. Bob was summoned to a ranch several miles from the town. A man, dying from the bite of a rattler, wanted to speak to Mr. Lorimer.

We hurried, taking Jim and Morrison with us. We found Berghoff, as we expected.

He knew that he couldn't live. He had overheard our conversation the day before, he said, and he feared that Morrison would detain him north of the Rio Grande, so he had slipped away—west—into the desert, hoping to cross the stream somewhere in the wilderness. Then he had been nipped by the snake. At first he wasn't afraid because he had never heard of a rattlesnake. Later, when a half-breed had told him the truth, it was too late for the native's cure to work.

The fellow had brought him to the main road, where a tourist in a small car had found him and hurried him to the nearest ranch.

He had sent for us because—he was a gentleman! He was a junkie! Messages must be called to his family in Berlin. In exchange for our graciousness, he had a confession to make—a dying man's confession!

He admitted all that I had reported the day before. He had used Miss Miller's letters to shield his own activities. He had coaxed Christobel Certeis into corresponding with a gentleman she supposed to be her husband.

I put a question vehemently:
"Were you coaxing Mrs. Certeis to join her husband—a German spy—now hiding in Mexico?"

The man shook his head and smiled at me most unpleasantly. A sudden fear of a man who could smile so on his death bed stifled me. He hated me—because it was my story which had sent him into the desert which had brought him to an agonizing death in an obscure corner of the universe.

He hated me and he would have vengeance upon me—it was the way of his breed—unless death intervened to save me!

My husband's unjust suspicions had been aroused weeks before by Katherine Miller.

They had been fostered by Berghoff who had lived in Certeis' house while I was there. He was not the kind of a man to believe in a woman's virtue.

A dreadful grin twisted his lips before he shaped a reply to my question:

"No! I served my master better than that!" he snarled. "There was a woman whom he loved—whom he wanted more than his wife! I sent him a bait—to catch her with!"

"Baby Babs," I cried in horror.

"And—and you!" My husband's voice reached across a sea of blackness.

Morrison and Jim were lifting me into the car when I came out of the darkness—came out of a faint—came back to the dreadful knowledge that Bob's foolish suspicion had been turned to conviction. My husband held me guilty of sin against himself. Believing this he was about to go to meet a beautiful woman who loved him!

Berghoff had been true to his nature and his training to the end. Dying, he had done his worst!

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

THE RIDDLE BOOK
It was great fun in Once-Upon Town with all its book houses as Nick and Nancy thought walked along reading the names on the covers. I'm afraid though, they'd have a bad time of it if it hadn't been for the magical mushroom. Some of the lost books were written in French, some in Russian, some even in Chinese. The twins had a hard enough time reading American, having been no further than page 15, Reader A, where it says, "There has been a big bun on the bin."

So the mushroom, which understood all languages, was certainly needed now. The children had no trouble at all reading everything as long as they kept him near.

Suddenly they came to a big book which was marked "Riddles" on the cover. "If it can ask riddles maybe it can answer them too," cried Nancy.

Suddenly they came to a big book which was marked "Riddles" on the cover

"Where's Jocko?" she asked.

"Behind his nose and before his tail!" said the book, solemnly.

The kiddies were disappointed, but they had to laugh. Then Nick thought of something else.

"Is he here in 'The Land of Lost Things'?" he asked.

"If he came and hasn't gone he is," answered the book. "If he didn't come and has gone, he isn't," it continued.

"Oh, we can't understand that, you funny old book," said Nancy, a bit crossly. "I don't believe you know any more than we do about our monkey.
Come on, Nick."

Perhaps the green shoes felt sorry for the twins, for they whisked them along the street to a "Funny Book." And Funny Book said:

"There once was a whale
Who swallowed his tail.
First he turned to a ball,
Then to nothing at all."

But instead of making the twins laugh it set them to thinking. What if Jocko had done that, too, and disappeared altogether?

"Nonsense—stiff and nonsense!" said the mushroom. "How could he?"

Five million strong, yes, and maybe more
Little tots of our neighboring lands,
Are crying for food and their throats are sore;
They are thin and drawn and they're shy of brawn,
There are aches and pains in their glands.
And they wail, if they can,
As they wave their hands,
"I'm Hungry!"

Five million mothers, if mothers there are,
Must be grieving their lives away,
To the beg and the plea—and it reaches far—
That calls for a bite or a scanty mite
That will keep hunger pains away.
It must hurt, it must pain,
Hearing, time and again,
"I'm Hungry!"

Five million lives are seeping out,
Just wasting and fading away;
Lives that are blighted and turned about—
Tots we could save and keep from the grave,
If we'd only give food today.
There's a pitiful call To Americans all—
"I'm Hungry!"

THAT COLD IN THE HEAD.

When there is a "cold in the head,"
that is, when inflammation is present in the nasal passages, the proper work of the nose is seriously interfered with.

A cold in the head clears up in about 10 days, if the nasal passages are normal and the patient is in good physical condition, otherwise the cold lingers indefinitely. Often the nasal inflammation becomes chronic, so that the patient seems constantly to be catching fresh "colds."

In the commonest form of chronic inflammation, the patient is troubled with a large amount of mucus and pus which collects in the nose and throat. This is noticed, especially, in the morning when considerable coughing and hawking are required to permit free breathing. After a time, such a patient becomes more or less of a mouth breather, particularly at night, and the tongue is consequently very dry when he wakes up. Snoring is a common consequence of this condition and the digestion is impaired in the majority of instances. The air passages leading from the nose to the throat and to the eye may be involved. Deafness of some degree is not uncommon. Headache and neuralgia are frequently present. The sense of smell is impaired or destr-

ed and the voice loses its clear ring.
The inflammation interferes with the mucous glands that moisten the lining membrane of the nose. Some of them waste away and disappear and this, in turn, makes things worse.

Occasionally, the disease takes another form, sometimes called "dry catarrh." In this, the lining of the nose, including the blood vessels, nerves and even the bone itself, undergoes a process of shrinking and wasting away. A disagreeable odor is imparted to the breath from the decaying scab-like crusts which cling to the dry mucous membrane, but of this symptom the patient himself is unaware, having lost the sense of smell.
In this form of disease, the throat
often presents a dry and dark-red glazed appearance.

The treatment of chronic nasal catarrh is most satisfactory when, in addition to the local treatment, measures are instituted to improve the general health, for many of these cases occur among young persons who are poorly nourished and possess but little resistance to disease. All abnormal or diseased conditions in the upper air passages require treatment
at the hands of a competent physician.
Always remember that repeated
"colds" result in impaired health and lessened efficiency, if not in actual disease.

COMMITTEES BASIC LAW CONVENTION TO HOLD MANY MEETINGS

Proponents of Proposed Changes Will Be Given Hearing.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Springfield, Ill., Feb. 5.—Teachers, suffragists, initiative and referendum advocates, militarists and adherents of judicial reform are soon to have the opportunity to present their views to committees of the Illinois constitutional convention.

Plans were being consummated today by the different committees for public hearings on the proposals which have been referred to them for consideration. Wide interest manifested in proposed changes in the judicial system has resulted in the rules committee fixing next Wednesday, February 11, as the date when the convention will meet in committee of the whole and hear several speakers discuss changes which should be made in the courts.

Hiram T. Gilbert and Judge Harry Olson, both of Chicago, will be two of the speakers.

I. & B. Committee.
The committee on initiative, referendum and recall has arranged for an open hearing, February 17, and has decided to ask several prominent advocates of the proposition to appear before the convention. The list includes former Governor Edward F. Dunne, Charles E. Merriam of the University of Chicago, Harriet Taylor Treadwell, member of the Chicago Political Equality League; Willis J. Spaulding, one of Springfield's City Commissioners; Harry Ellis of Quincy, member of the Mayors' Association; Duncan McDonald, President of the Illinois Federation of Labor, and Dr. Herbert S. Bigelow, chairman of the Ohio Constitutional Convention.

A date has not been set for a hearing on suffrage proposals, but the committee on this subject has decided to invite prominent suffragists to present their views concerning the text of the suffrage section in the new constitution.

Teachers To Be Heard.
Both Chicago and downstate teachers will have an opportunity soon to present their ideas to the committee on education on means of providing the profession with a living wage. It is probable the committee on revenue will also ask the teachers to appear at a hearing inasmuch as the complaint is made that present tax laws do not provide sufficient funds for educational purposes.

Colonel William H. Beckman of the fourth Illinois infantry, chairman of the military committee, is planning a hearing on military affairs at which he expects to have present Adjutant General Frank S. Dickson, Colonel Milton J. Foreman and others prominent in military organizations of the state.

The Stage

WINNING PLAYERS

"Here Comes the Bride" was originally produced at the Geo. M. Conan Theatre, New York City. Vulgarly speaking it is a whooping, whirling, whizzing, live wire American farce comedy, brisk and youthful.

There are wildly observed complications with the thrill of suspense and unexpected surprises and a love story typical of full blooded, ardent, American youth. It is a story of stirring adventures involving a young New York lawyer who loves a beautiful heiress from which he is parted by her flinty headed father when he becomes impoverished through fighting a poor inventor's suit against a cruel corporation. The desperate youth is offered $100,000 to take a veiled bride of mystery, but on condition that he leave her at the altar without seeking her identity. There are bewildering suspense and complications that keep the audience making wrong guesses until the final curtain of adroitly suspenseful farce.

This is but one of the many comedies that the Winning Players will offer at the Dixon opera house next week.

Dr. Joseph Beech will give his lecture, "Through China to the Roof of the World," which he gave some time ago before the National Geographic Society, on Sunday evening at the Methodist church. The lecture is illustrated with stereopticon views. So excellent was the lecture considered by the National Geographic society that Dr. Beech was invited to make a second lecture later. That Dr. Beech is a Dixon man and that he has intimate knowledge of his subject through his own personal explorations will make the lecture one of especial interest to Dixon people. ## FIFTH VICTIM LOTION SPREE DIED TUESDAY

Chemist Found Wood Alcohol in Barber's "Tonic."

Freeport, Feb. 4.—With the death of Carl F. Dieckman, who died at the Globe hospital shortly after 7 o'clock last night, the total number of deaths resulting from the drinking of "floral spirits" was raised to five. Dieckman was rushed to the hospital yesterday morning, but despite the efforts made by physicians he could not survive.

The Sunday night spree of some fifteen or twenty Freeport youths was the most tragic of any event ever known in Freeport and it is possible that one or two more of the drinkers may not survive. "Bill" Bailey, a soldier, was taken to St. Francis hospital last night and there is said to be but slight hopes for his recovery. Bailey was totally blind when taken to the hospital and had not recovered his eyesight this morning.

Rogers Recovering
Merton Rogers, one of the young men who indulged in the concoction, was said to be improving today. He had lost his eyesight before being taken to the hospital but the attending physician stated today that Rogers had recovered his sight and there were hopes that he would survive. However, the outcome of a majority of the cases cannot be predicted, according to the physicians. "Jim" Wiegand, who had been in a critical condition since Monday morning is improving. He spent a comfortable night and this morning the young man seemed much better. However his heart has become affected and it will be a matter of a few days before the outcome can be predicted.

Chemist Reports on Analysis
D. W. Haines, chemist at the W. V. T. Rawleigh Company laboratories, made a chemical analysis of the contents of the bottle from which the "death lotion" was taken and said he found wood alcohol. He stated that he made a quantitative analysis and not a qualitative one, therefore he could not say how heavy in precipitation of wood alcohol the mixture might be. The chemist was requested to make a further examination and if possible determine how much of the wood alcohol was in the solution.

demands of rail workers for a wage increase.

Before the meeting Allan E. Barker, grand president of the Brotherhood said that if a satisfactory adjustment of wages was not decided upon by the railroad administration, an immediate cessation of work by the organization's 300,000 members would be ordered.

Fully 100,000 members of the brotherhood receive less than $3 a day. The average increase asked, he said, is 40 per cent.

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Pain on Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-Four Hours.

Every druggist in this country is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer in this vicinity that if two bottles of Allenru, the sure conquerer of rheumatism, does not stop all agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenru has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiable and where the patient was helpless.

Allenru relieves at once. Immediately after you start to take it the good work begins. It searches out the uric acid deposits, dissolves the secretions and drives rheumatic poison out of the body through the kidneys and bowels.

It's marvelous how quickly it acts. Blessed relief often comes in two days and even in cases where the suffering is most painful all traces disappear in a few days.

Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenru, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenru decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed all druggists to guarantee it in every instance.

Laxative Campho Quinine

AS far back as one can remember, CAMPHOR has been a stand-by for breaking a cold. Our grandmothers would run for the CAMPHOR bottle at the first sign of a cold, put a few drops on a loaf of sugar or in a little water and make us take it, then insist on our inhaling CAMPHOR from the bottle.

QUININE is also a household necessity. Who has not taken the little white capsules of QUININE? But it remained for DR. GORDON to combine these old household remedies with the addition of a laxative (which is essential in the treating of all colds), and the use of a new form of QUININE, entirely free from that sensation of ringing in the ears, into a new product, the greatest of all-known to Medical Science. No depressing bromides; no unpleasant after-effects from QUININE. A mild laxative and certain to break the most severe cold, if taken at the start, in a day's time.

Don't wait for a cold really to develop—at its first sign take a dose of Campho Quinine and relieve it right in the beginning.

Any of the following druggists in your city have Dr. Gordon's Laxative Campho Quinine in stock ready for you at the price of only one box. Stop in right away at the first of these stores nearest you and get a box, so that you will have it on hand ready for the emergency. Be sure to get Campho Quinine—the white box with the red band.
